

Jewish Theatre Collaborative &
The Harold Schnitzer Family Program in Judaic Studies present:

Don't Mess with Savta

Staged readings of David Ehrlich Stories
w/a Post Performance Reception and Conversation with the Author.

November 02, 2009, 7:00 PM

Coho Theatre 2257 N.W. Raleigh St. Portland OR

Admission $10.00

Reservations: www.jewishtheatrecollaborative.org , or call 503-922-2453

Enjoy David Ehrlich's stories masterfully lifted off the page, by some of Portland's best actors. Come on an incredible journey of personal discovery that involves a British Boyfriend, an Israeli real estate developer and visitations from a dead grandmother. Then stay for a reception and delightful conversation with the author. The outstanding cast includes Nick Ferrucci and Drammy Award Winners Michele Mariana and Matt Dieckman.

Israeli David Ehrlich is a fiction writer, commentator, former journalist and founder and proprietor of T'mol Shilshom. This Jerusalem landmark is a one-of-a-kind welcoming space for Jerusalem's queer community and attracts Israeli literary talents, such as the renowned Yehudah Amichai and Nathan Englander. Modeled off the U.S.-style bookstore-café, T'mol Shilshom is celebrated in both the U.S. and Israeli presses and travel publications.